Product description

The VSC280 slicer with integration of retail scale K-Class Flex II represents a new generation of integrated devices in the retail process landscape.

A major added value for the end user is the absolute transparency in terms of customer contact since customers can see the products while being sliced, weighed and packaged.

The trip between slicer and separate scale can be saved which allows a permanent eye contact to the customer.

Highlights include the Ceraclean® surface for easy handling of the products and Emotion technology for energy efficiency.
